Featured Speaker: Mike Endres

Mike is originally from Fairbanks, Alaska and has been doing professional photography for 50 years now. A lengthy career in the Army provided him with a sense of adventure and the opportunity to travel places most people wouldn't even dream of. He remains an avid rock climber, ice climber, and back-country skier, seeking the solace of the mountains and other unique places. He recently published a guide to the National Monuments of the West and is currently working on a photo book on the 15 species of cranes worldwide. He also teaches photography throughout the year to various audiences. He currently lives in Colorado with his wife, Gana, and the memories of their Bernese Mountain Dog, Jake.
